Support for Parents:

Various associations such as the Learning Disabilities Association of Ontario, the Ontario Association for Community Living, and the Association for Bright Children, may be able to assist parents/guardians in their discussion with teachers and school board officials.

In addition, the board's Special Education Advisory Committee (SEAC) may make recommendations to the board about matters affecting the establishment, development and delivery of special education programs and services for the exceptional pupils of the board.

“Shared Solutions: A Guide to Preventing & Resolving Conflicts Regarding Programs & Services for Students with Special Education Needs” has practical strategies and information.
